Welcome.

Dear fellow Miamians,

On behalf of the Interfraternity Council, the Multicultural Greek Council, the National Pan-Hellenic Council, and the Panhellenic Association, we are thrilled to welcome you into our community. As a member of the Miami family, you are a part of a legacy that has been growing on campus since our founding. The education that you will receive encompasses more than just a commitment to strong academics, but copious opportunities to develop through student engagement and involvement on campus.

Over the next four years, you will not only be working towards a degree and discovering your career path, but will also develop meaningful connections with others, allowing you to find your place in the Miami community. The fraternity and sorority community is grounded in five core principles: scholarship and learning, service and philanthropy, leadership and values, brotherhood and sisterhood, and community. Each provides development through meaningful connections and life lessons. These principles are designed to support you in your ongoing development as a leader and individual on Miami's campus. Constituting the largest student group on campus, fraternity and sorority members represent over 5,000 undergraduate students. With this network of support and enriching opportunities, membership in a Greek organization will provide members with a personal connection to Miami traditions and legacy.

With over 50 Greek organizations across four councils, there is endless opportunity to find the chapter best suited for you. Each chapter offers unique experiences that will be sure to strengthen your reserve and character while preparing you for future success. Fraternity and sorority life enhances the lives of each individual who serves as a member of their Greek organization. With that, it is our hope that you will find this guide to be a valuable resource, guiding and helping you understand the ways in which involvement in the fraternity and sorority community can impact your college experience and future endeavors.

We look forward to seeing you at recruitment/intake and wish you the best of luck in all of your college pursuits. Go Greek! Go RedHawks!

Love and Honor,

Zach Rengers

From the President

Dear fellow Miamians,

Character, leadership, and service are at the very core of our values at Miami – they are visible expressions of what it means to live Love and Honor in our community. This is a special place with a distinct legacy, a unique mission, and a deep responsibility. Miami has a rich heritage of student involvement and campus leadership. One of our oldest and most revered traditions of student engagement is Fraternity and Sorority Life.

To many, joining a fraternity or sorority is an excellent opportunity for personal growth, servant leadership, academic success, and a sense of responsibility to serve our community with a higher purpose. Many of our extraordinary alumni attribute their success to Greek life experiences, especially the values their fraternity or sorority instilled in them.

As you experience campus life during the first semester and beyond, you will find many ways to engage and lead. We have nearly 600 student organizations, including over 50 fraternities and sororities, each offering unique and dynamic experiences. Please take every opportunity to explore how these groups and organizations can enhance your journey at Miami and beyond. Think about how, through your participation and membership, your life and the lives of others will be enriched and transformed in positive ways. Find and engage with those who will challenge you, stretch your mind, expand your perspective, develop your virtues such as courage, empathy, and humility, awaken your delight, and deepen your love for Miami.

If you choose to participate in Fraternity and Sorority Life, look closely at these organizations' core foundations, values, and virtues and note their alignment with Miami's Code of Love and Honor. Hold yourself and your fellow Miamians to the highest standards of excellence in all that you do. Hold true to Love and Honor and our shared dedication to serving a higher purpose. You will see the quote on campus: "To think that in such a place, I led such a life." Embrace both the incredible benefits of this life and the responsibilities that come with membership in these special communities and the greater community of the Miami family.

I wish you all the best.

Love and Honor,

Gregory P. Crawford

FIVE PILLARS OF THE COMMUNITY

Scholarship and Learning

Each chapter commits itself to the tenet of enhancing scholarship and learning within the chapter. As a result, members of Miami's fraternities and sororities consistently earn GPAs above campus averages for both men and women.

Service and Philanthropy

One of the most rewarding aspects of fraternity and sorority involvement is the opportunity to impact the lives of others. Last year, Miami Greeks completed over 37,000 service hours and donated over $285,000 through service projects and philanthropic fundraisers.

Leadership and Values

Miami's Greek community is dedicated to developing strong, multi-faceted leaders. Fraternity and sorority life provides an outstanding means for the discovery and implementation of each member's unique leadership potential by encouraging individuals to strive for positive change in their organizations and the community.

Community

The Greek community has been thriving for over 190 years at Miami, and it offers engaging opportunities that are hard to match elsewhere. Whether it is a fraternity or sorority sponsored service, philanthropy, athletic event, or speaker, students grow as individuals through their Greek involvement.

Brotherhood and Sisterhood

Within each chapter, there is a close bond of friendship and family. This is one of the foundations of the Greek experience and is a cornerstone that each organization is built upon. The unique personalities of fraternity and sorority members provide a diverse and well-rounded Greek community.

RECRUITMENT AND INTAKE ELIGIBILITY

All four governing councils and individual chapters may establish standards of membership including, but not limited to, credit hour and grade point average requirements. To affiliate with a fraternity or sorority, a student must have completed all of the below requirements prior to the start of the recruitment or intake process.

Minimum Eligibility Requirements

- One full-time fall or spring semester (at Miami University or other accredited institution of higher education).
- 12 college credit hours (does not include AP, IB, dual-enrollment credit achieved in high school).
- At least a 2.5 minimum, cumulative, grade point average for Panhellenic, MGC, and NPHC organizations and at least a minimum 2.75 for IFC fraternities. Transfer GPAs cannot be combined – only the most recent college GPA received will be considered.
    - For first-year students, only the fall GPA will be considered. The Cliff Alexander Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life does not accept Winter Term grades to determine recruitment eligibility.
    - Chapters in each council may have higher GPA requirements than the above office minimums.
- Completion of the assigned “Introduction to Fraternity and Sorority Life” Canvas course.
    - This will include an additional Hazing Prevention module that is geared towards the fraternity and sorority community.
- Student eligibility will be verified through the Cliff Alexander Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life prior to the chapter extending any form of invitation to membership. Only transcripts from the most recent institution attended will be considered.

HAZING PREVENTION AND EDUCATION

Hazing of any kind is illegal and strictly prohibited at Miami University. Miami seeks to promote a safe environment where students may participate in activities and organizations without compromising their health, safety, or welfare. Hazing is not tolerated at Miami. Not within our sororities and fraternities, our athletic teams, sports clubs, registered student organizations, or anywhere else.

What is Hazing?

Under Collin's Law and university policy, hazing is defined as doing, requiring, encouraging or coercing another, including the victim, to do:

- any act of initiation into any student organization or other university sanctioned organization or athletic team; or
- any act to continue or reinstate membership in or affiliation with any student organization or other university sanctioned organization or athletic team that causes or creates a substantial risk of causing mental or physical harm to any person, including coercing another to consume alcohol or another drug. Failure to intervene, prevent, or report any act of hazing may also constitute a violation.

Hazing Education

Collin's Law states that each institution shall provide students, as well as all staff and volunteers that advise or coach an organization and have direct contact with students, with an educational program on hazing awareness, prevention, intervention, and the institution's policy.

- All incoming first year students will complete a Hazing Prevention 101 educational course prior to coming to campus.
- Students interested In joining a fraternity and sorority are required to complete an additional educational course prior to joining.
- Hazing prevention education is also provided to general chapter members during the annual Hazing Prevention Week.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Leadership development is a critical component of the fraternity and sorority experience. The Cliff Alexander Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life encourages all members to explore and refine their leadership skills. Office-led programs like Acropolis and Advance allow students to do so in tandem with other members of the community. Leadership opportunities are also available at the chapter and council level through executive board positions. Serving in these roles is a great way to serve the community and build essential skills for the workforce.

ACROPOLIS

The purpose of Acropolis is to provide an opportunity for emerging leaders in Miami University's fraternity and sorority community to engage in personal growth and leadership development. Participants leave Acropolis with knowledge and skills to better serve their chapters and the greater Miami and Oxford communities.

Early in the fall semester, over 80 participants and 30 peer mentors are selected to attend the weekend-long Acropolis retreat held at a local YMCA camp. Peer mentors are current, active members of fraternities and sororities and are trained to facilitate and lead a small group of participants. The Acropolis curriculum includes topics such as exploring students' Top 5 CliftonStrengths, working as a team, leading difficult conversations, and practicing vulnerability. The Acropolis experience is a catalyst for students to confidently step into leadership roles and many participants go on to become chapter presidents and council executive board members!

ADVANCE

Designed for our community leadership, chapter presidents, and council executive board officers, Advance allows leaders to work towards optimal effectiveness within their chapters and councils while building a sense of community. Advance is held annually at the end of the fall semester and serves as a transitional workshop for new officers. Held on campus, this day-long program allows leaders to set goals for the year, discuss trends in the community, and learn about campus resources. Campus partners are invited to attend to connect and engage with officers, establishing positive, working relationships for their upcoming terms. Council and chapter leaders gather monthly during all-council meetings to advance the community, participate in challenging conversations, and promote collaboration among all organizations.

SECOND-YEAR HOUSING

Fraternity House Living

Miami University recognizes the benefits a strong fraternity community has on the undergraduate experience. An important component of that experience is providing the opportunity for undergraduate men to live with their fraternity brothers in a safe environment that is supportive of a student's academic success and personal development. Because of this commitment to fraternity and student success, men have the opportunity to live in fraternity houses during their second year and be exempted from Miami's sophomore live-in requirement.

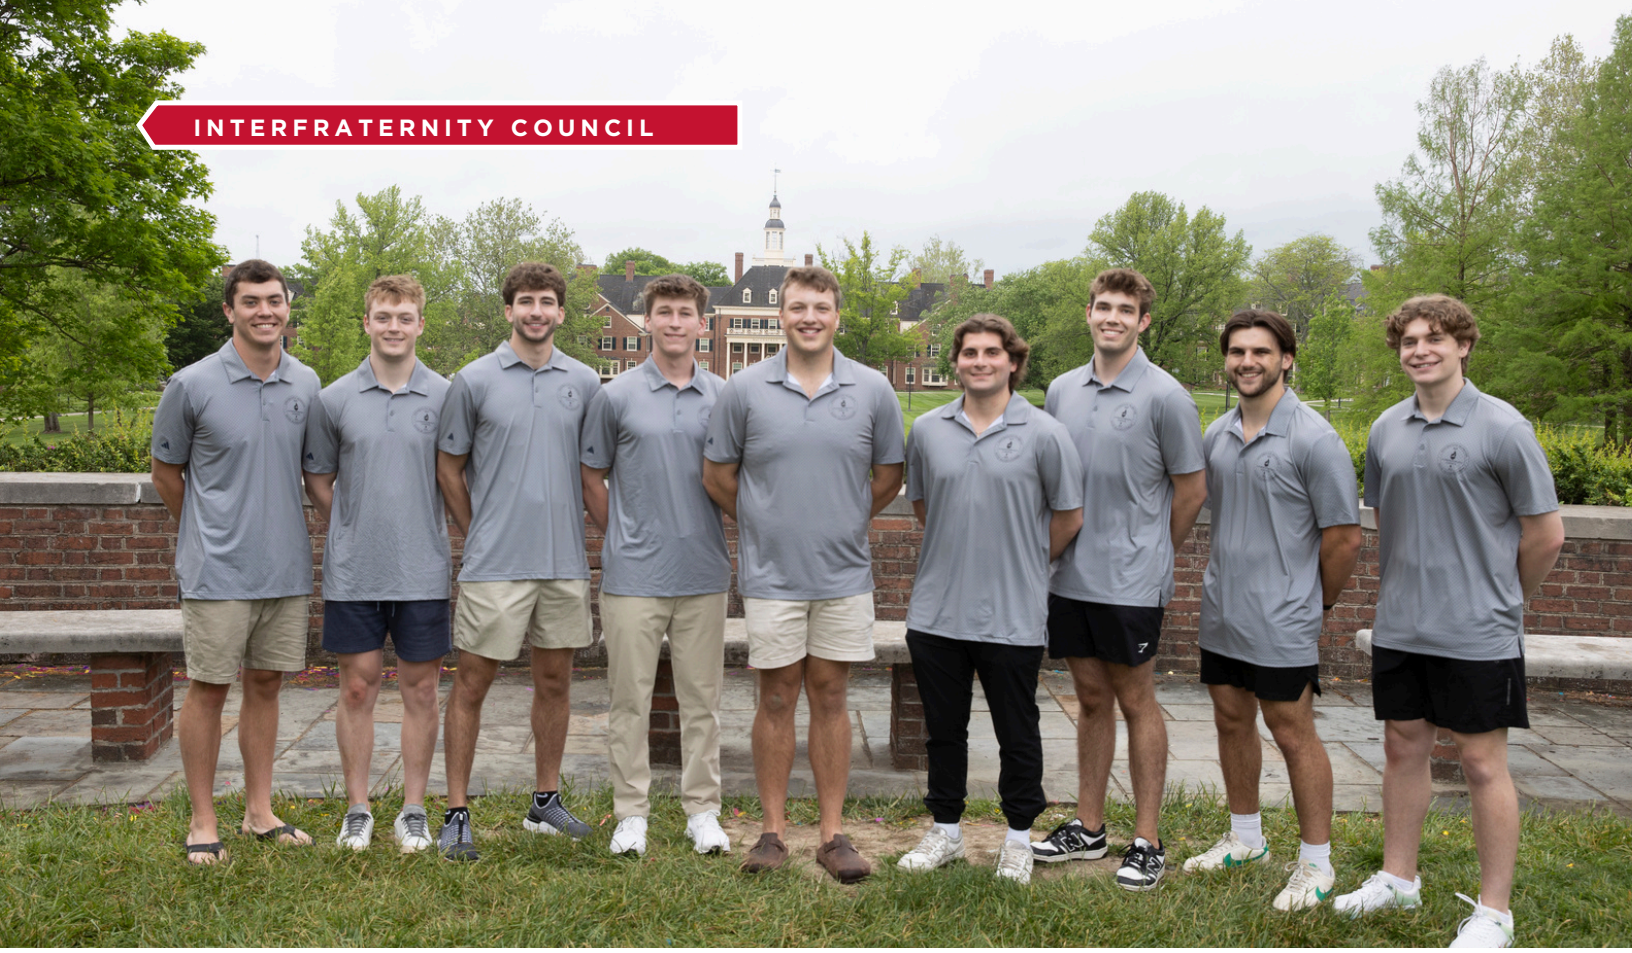
Second-Year Exemption Process

Students must meet the minimum requirements set by Miami University and the individual chapters in order to be eligible to live in the houses. Individual chapters also have to meet certain requirements to be eligible to have sophomores live in the chapter house. Men must have a 2.75 cumulative GPA and must not have any conduct violations reported through the Office of Community Standards. Students must also participate in a mandatory informational session about the second-year exemption process which will include expectations of living in a chapter facility.

Men are required to submit an application in order to be considered for second-year exemption. All requirements are reviewed and verified by the Cliff Alexander Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life. Failure to submit an application will result in being required to live on campus.

Sorority Living Learning Community

The Sorority Living Learning Community (LLC) was created to enhance the collegiate experience of sorority women and strengthen their sisterhood by living with members from their chapter and women from other chapters. The expectation is that all sorority women in Panhellenic chapters live in the Sorority LLC during their second year at Miami. Sorority LLC applications open in early March after the primary recruitment process has concluded.



GET TO KNOW THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is composed of 26 member fraternities and governed by 10 annually elected IFC executive board officers. The fraternity and sorority community at Miami University has one of the richest Greek traditions in the nation, recognized by many as the “Mother of Fraternities.”

With one of the oldest, largest Greek communities, Miami fraternities are continually honored for their academic, philanthropic, athletic, leadership, community, and social achievements on the campus, local, and national levels.

Our chapter, was established with the vision and belief that Greek life could be something more, something that truly enriched lives, embraced brotherhood, and cultivated an environment in which all members were valued. We pride ourselves in high standards of membership, commitment to core values, and our role in bettering all Greek life at Miami. We are a rapidly growing chapter, yet we never sacrifice quality for quantity. Each new member is truly a Man of Word and Deed who will uphold our values and improve this brotherhood. We give ample opportunities for leadership and allow every brother to know each other, creating strong, lifelong bonds. Although we house a diverse range of individuals, we are united by our belief in integrity, initiative, loyalty, accountability, and respect, the five values we all agree to represent and uphold. Founded in 1848 as an Alpha chapter and member of the Miami Triad, Phi Delta Theta is proud of its long-standing and deep history at Miami University. Our primary philanthropy is the Live Like Lou Foundation, where we have pledged to raise $20,000 each year to support research in the fight against ALS in honor of Lou Gehrig, one of our brothers. Helping brothers meet their true potential is the foundation of Phi Delta Theta. We seek to recruit like-minded individuals who share our values of friendship, sound learning, and rectitude. Our characteristics center on charisma, loyalty, academic integrity, and leadership, as reflected in the accomplishments of our widespread alumni network. Brothers support each other to not only become better students, but to become better men. We are actively involved on campus through intramurals and sports, and in our roles throughout various other organizations.

MGC and NPHC chapters conduct intake in either the fall or spring semester. Chapters conduct intake at their own discretion and based on the needs of the chapter.

Do I have to identify as a person of color to join an organization/chapter (i.e., Latinx for MGC or African-American for NPHC)?
No. MGC, NPHC, and their respective chapters have non-discriminatory policies and practices. All racial identities are welcomed to seek membership and learn more about the uniqueness of each council and their chapters.

How do I express interest in joining a MGC or NPHC organization/chapter?
The most common way to express interest is to attend the organization's programs, events, or service projects. You are not expected to go to everything the chapter hosts, but showing face and engaging with the chapter is a good start to expressing your interest. Some organizations (not all) will host an informational meeting for potential new members to express interest and ask questions of current chapter members.

How do I become a member of one of the organizations within MGC or NPHC?
MGC and NPHC organizations may recruit and conduct their membership intake differently. Membership intake is under the full operation of the respective chapter and their national organization. Most require an invitation in order to be interviewed for membership. However, each chapter has their own requirements of becoming a member. Chapters and the councils strongly recommend those interested do their research on the organization and visit the national headquarter's website to learn more about how to join and the requirements needed.

Between MGC and NPHC, is one council better than the other?
No. Each council and their respective chapters are unique, with their own traditions. Both councils bring a different perspective of what "traditional" fraternity and sorority life is and can look like. The councils equally bring rich history to the community. Ultimately, both councils provide open doors for students to find a sense of belonging within the fraternity and sorority community that they may not have thought possible.

General FAQs

How many chapters are there?
The Interfraternity Council is made up of 26 fraternities and Panhellenic is made up of 18 sororities that are all nationally recognized and in good standing with Miami University.

How many students are In the fraternity and sorority community?
There are around 5,500+ students In the community, which is about 33% of the undergraduate student population.

What is the difference between a recognized and unrecognized organization?
Recognized fraternities and sororities are a local chapter of a national organization and are recognized as student organizations by Miami University. These chapters are in good standing and are overseen by the Cliff Office staff, their national organization, and alumni boards.

Unrecognized organizations are fraternities and sororities that are no longer recognized as student organizations by Miami. Chapters may lose recognition from the university for a variety of reasons, but generally, it is due to a serious violation of the student code of conduct. Often the recognition is also revoked by the chapter's national organization, but in some situations it is not. The university highly discourages students from joining a chapter that is not recognized by the institution.

How much does it cost to be part of a fraternity or sorority?
Joining a fraternity or sorority does carry a financial commitment. Each chapter sets its own dues for the academic year, they vary in cost from new member to active member. Dues go towards inter/national fees, social functions, chapter operating expenses, and educational programs and initiatives. The Cliff Alexander Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life has updated information, but it is best to talk to each chapter individually about the associated costs for a more detailed breakdown.

Why are new member dues higher than active member dues?
Many national organizations have one-time costs associated with membership. These costs are typically billed during the student's first semester of their membership.

What are the time commitments associated with membership In a fraternity or sorority?
The more you put into your experience, the more you will get out of It! General chapter members may spend one to two hours a week at required chapter events. There are also optional chapter events that members can attend. Chapter leaders have a higher time commitment, usually around three to five hours a week.

Who supports/oversees fraternities and sororities?
Each chapter elects their own chapter's executive board that oversees the chapter's internal affairs, and these councils are supported by alumni advisor(s). All chapters are members of one of our four umbrella councils (IFC, MGC, NPHC, and PA). The four councils provide support and programming to engage all chapters. Additionally, every chapter is a part of larger national organizations that provide support, oversight, and resources to their chapters.

The Cliff Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life works closely with social sororities and fraternities to help them reach their full potential. Multiple full-time staff members are devoted to creating educational programming, providing oversight, and advising community leaders both on the council and chapter level.

Do Panhellenic chapters have sorority houses?
No, Panhellenic chapters do not have sorority houses off campus. The Sorority Living Learning Community was created as an alternative option for second-year sorority women. Located in Central Quad, the Sorority LLC allows women to live in the same corridor with their chapter sisters. Multiple chapters will be assigned to each building, so it's also a great way to get to know members from other chapters.

What happens if I need to transfer but I am a member of a fraternity or sorority?
If you are an initiated member of the chapter you joined, you have the option to affiliate with that chapter at your new school! If there is no chapter at your new school, you may be able to receive alumni status with the chapter. Please reach out to the organization directly if this is the case for you. If you did not initiate into a chapter, you may be eligible to join a different chapter at your new school.

Can I join a business fraternity and a social fraternity/sorority?
Yes! Many members of social fraternities and sororities are also members of business fraternities. Requirements and recruitment processes are different for business fraternities so be sure to connect with them directly if you are interested.

What are Panhellenic Sprite Dates?
Sprite Dates are informal open house style events for potential new members to meet current chapter members prior to recruitment in the spring. It's a casual setting, held in the chapter suites, that allows students to get to know various chapters in a more relaxed atmosphere.

Panhellenic and IFC Recruitment FAQs

What is recruitment?
Recruitment is the process by which IFC and Panhellenic chapters on campus introduce themselves to prospective members. During this time you are invited to visit the chapters to learn about what each group has to offer. Each council has a different schedule, IFC recruitment occurs over one week and Panhellenic recruitment occurs over two weekends.

What are the requirements to join?
Students must meet the following requirements before joining the recruitment process:

- One full-time fall or spring semester.
- 12 college credit hours (does not include AP, IB, or dual-enrollment credit achieved in high school).
- At least a 2.75 minimum, cumulative GPA for Interfraternity Council fraternities and a 2.5 minimum, cumulative GPA for Panhellenic sororities. (Transfer GPAs cannot be combined; only the most recent college GPA received will be considered).
- For first-year students, only the fall GPA will be considered. The Cliff Office does not accept Winter Term/J-Term grades to determine recruitment eligibility.
- Completion of assigned online educational module.

Eligibility will be verified through the Cliff Alexander Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life.

Can my Winter Term grades count towards the GPA requirement to go through recruitment?
No, the Cliff Office does not accept Winter Term/J-Term grades to determine recruitment eligibility. This means that you have to complete the fall semester with a 2.75 GPA at minimum for IFC or a 2.5 GPA for Panhellenic.

Is there a cost associated with recruitment?
Yes. Costs to register for Panhellenic recruitment is $75. For IFC recruitment, the cost Is $25. These costs go toward recruitment logistics (i.e. room reservations, materials, etc.). These fees are non-refundable.

Do I need a letter of recommendation to go through Panhellenic recruitment?
No. Letters of recommendation are not required. For Panhellenic recruitment, if you know a sorority woman who wants to write a letter of recommendation on your behalf, it should be sent directly to the chapters. More information about letters of recommendation can be found at MiamiOHpanhellenic.org. IFC does not accept letters of recommendation.

Is it common for sophomores to go through recruitment?
Yes. Many sophomores and upperclass students choose to go through recruitment. Being an upperclass student does not hurt your chances of joining a chapter.

Can I go through recruitment if I am an athlete?
Absolutely; many athletes join our community each year! For IFC recruitment, there is not a set schedule. Students can attend chapter open houses throughout the week. Student-athletes can get to know the chapters whenever best fits their schedule. Please keep in mind that chapters can begin to hand out bids starting on the Monday of recruitment.

It is required that potential new members going through the Panhellenic process attend all rounds for which they are invited. However, if you have scheduling conflicts with recruitment because you are a student-athlete, Panhellenic will do their best to accommodate your schedule so you can participate.

What if I have class/lab during one of the evenings of Panhellenic recruitment?
As a student first, you should attend your class/lab. The Panhellenic Association will send out an absence form that you can complete to let them know that you will need to be excused from recruitment events that evening.

Does everyone participating in recruitment receive a bid?
It is not guaranteed that everyone participating in the IFC recruitment process will receive a bid. It is up to the chapters to select who they want to offer bids to.

Panhellenic recruitment is a mutual selection process. Each chapter has their own criteria for membership and it is not guaranteed that you will be asked back to all of the chapters you loved. However, if you go through the entire recruitment process and rank all of the chapters you visited for preference round, you are guaranteed a bid. It may not be a bid from your first choice chapter. On the other hand, if you do not rank all the chapters you visited during preference round, or you intentionally preference a single chapter, there is no guarantee that you will be offered a bid.

Are there opportunities to join outside of primary recruitment?
Yes. Informal recruitment occurs In the fall semester and after primary recruitment in the spring, although not all chapters will participate. The same requirements to join still apply.
