If we have not resolved it within this time you may complain to the Legal Ombudsman. We will not charge you for handling your complaint.

3. What will happen next?

- 3.1 We will write to you acknowledging your complaint and may ask you to confirm or explain the details set out. We will aim to respond to you within two business days of us receiving your complaint.
- 3.2 We may invite you to a meeting to discuss and understand the nature of your concerns.
- 3.3 In the event of a meeting, we will write to you to confirm what took place and any solutions we have agreed with you.
- 3.4 If you do not want a meeting or it is not appropriate or practical to have one, we will send you a detailed, written reply to your complaint. This will include our suggestions for resolving the matter, a confirmation of our final position on your complaint, and an explanation of our reasoning.
- 3.5 If following the conclusion of our complaints process we both agree that it is appropriate to try and resolve any disagreement between us using mediation, then alternative dispute resolution (“ADR”) bodies do exist which may be competent to consider your complaint. One such body, which is competent to consider certain complaints about legal services from consumers, is the ADR Group – further information about them can be found on-line.
- 3.6 After this procedure has been followed and if you still remain dissatisfied you can refer your complaint to the Legal Ombudsman. The Legal Ombudsman expects complaints to be made to them within one year of the date of the act or omission about which you are concerned or within one year of you realising there was a concern. You must also refer your concerns to the Legal Ombudsman within six months of our final response to you.

- 3.8 If your complaint is in respect of our fees, you have the right to apply to court for an assessment under Part III of the Solicitors Act 1974 but, if you have applied for such an assessment, the Legal Ombudsman might not consider a complaint about the fees.
- 3.9 If you are concerned about our conduct the Solicitors Regulation Authority can help. This could be for issues like dishonesty, taking or losing your money or treating you unfairly because of your age, a disability or other characteristic.
