Our Beautiful World

When we look around, we see all different people, beautiful as can be!

Some people's skin is dark or light.

It can be all shades, from brown to white.

Some people's hair is brown or red.

Some have hair that's curly,
some wear braids instead.

Some people walk or use a wheelchair

when they need to get from here to there.

There are so many friends to meet and see – beautiful you, beautiful me!

The Little People® characters were created to allow children to see themselves when they play, and to introduce them to other people they may meet in the world. We hope to help children understand that we all have differences in the way we look, move, and communicate, and those differences are what make our world more beautiful.

We've partnered with educators and experts in early childhood development to create tools - like this book - that can help start these discussion when you and your child are ready. Scan the QR code below for a reading companion for this book and to learn more. From your friends at Fisher-Price.
