INTRODUCING — OUR LUNCH IN SCHOOLS RANGE

We are thrilled to extend our reach into the lunch in schools segment, offering a comprehensive range of high-quality products tailored to meet the unique needs of educational institutions.

We take pride in sourcing only the finest ingredients and products for our customers. From wholesome snacks to fresh fruits and vegetables, protein-rich options, satisfying main meals, and essential packaging and cleaning supplies, our catalogue is designed to provide schools with everything they need for successful and nutritious meal programs.

As a locally owned and operated company, we understand the importance of community and connection. We are uniquely equipped with the resources and reach to offer a diverse range of products sourced from around the globe and distributed nationwide, giving schools the flexibility to create menus that reflect their unique preferences and dietary requirements.

TRAFFIC LIGHT SYSTEM

We have adopted the traffic light color-coding system to categorise foods based on their nutritional value. This approach offers a helpful method for selecting healthier choices to incorporate into your menus. The following table outlines the types of foods commonly assigned to each classification.

Everyday foods that provide a good source of nutrition, and essential nutrients. Whole foods over processed options, that are mostly low in saturated fats, salt, and added sugars.	Foods that provide some nutritional value, and are best included in small amounts, occasionally. Often more processed foods, that contain moderate amounts of saturated fats, salt, and added sugars. Include in menus every now and then to enrich flavour and add variety.	Poor nutritional value foods, that are often highly processed, and are mostly high in saturated fats, salt, and added sugars.
