How are the portfolios managed?

Money is invested with the following in mind:

Value

The potential for return is greater and loss is lower if investors purchase investments that are currently overlooked or underappreciated by other investors...

Capital Preservation

The goal is to not invest in assets if the reward isn't worth the risk. In other words, the portfolios can hold higher than normal levels of cash instead of investing in overvalued assets.

Quality and Cost Conscious

...but it's not just about value. The focus is on buying quality investments at attractive prices. This is done by undertaking comprehensive research to understand the fundamental drivers behind each opportunity.

True Diversification

Investors are less exposed to the risks of investing when money is spread across a mix of different investments (like shares, property, bonds and cash) that complement each other. In other words, simply holding more of the same/similar thing isn't the same as true diversification.

What are the portfolios invested in?

The portfolios are comprised primarily in passives funds, but will also have exposure to active funds if there is the potential for added value within the fee structure.

The portfolio invests across a range of asset classes such as equities, fixed interest and cash — with a UK home bias.
