Risk Warnings

Unless stated otherwise, all data and information is presented at 30/04/2024. Past performance is not a guide to future returns. The value of investments may go down as well as up and investors may not get back the amount invested. The portfolio shown has similar investment objectives and strategies as the portfolio recommended to individual clients by their financial adviser; however, may not contain the same securities that are currently underlying the portfolio provided to individual clients. Specific securities mentioned should not be viewed as a recommendation to buy or sell such securities. Due to platform requirements, cash allocations may differ per platform.

There is no guarantee that a diversified portfolio will enhance overall returns or will outperform a non-diversified portfolio. Neither diversification nor asset allocation ensure a profit or guarantee against loss. It is important to note that investments in mutual funds involve risk, including as a result of market and general economic conditions, and will not always be profitable.

Morningstar Equity Style Box

The Morningstar Style Box is a nine-square grid that illustrates the investment style of a security. Size (large, mid, or small) is displayed along the vertical axis and style is displayed along the horizontal axis. The "value" and "growth" investment styles are common to both stocks and funds. For stocks, the central column of the Style Box represents the "core" style. Few or no funds contain only stocks with extreme value-growth orientations, and both value and growth managers often hold core stocks for diversification or other reasons. Therefore, for funds, the central column represents the "blend" style (a mixture of growth and value stocks or mostly core stocks).

Returns Disclosure

The returns shown may not be the same as the returns of an investor's actual account and this due to various factors including the investment date by the investor and differences across platforms. The returns are calculated through Morningstar Direct, are provided for illustrative purposes only and should not be viewed as the performance of an actual account. The trailing returns shown are cumulative and year-on-year returns show complete 12-month periods. All performance is shown net of the holdings' management fees and expenses based on the cheapest share class available; however does not include the 0.25% per annum charged by Morningstar Investment Management Europe Ltd, the advisor fees or the Platform fees, therefore the actual performance experienced will be lower once these charges have been taken into account.

Risk Warnings

Unless stated otherwise, all data and information is presented at 30/04/2024. Past performance is not a guide to future returns. The value of investments may go down as well as up and investors may not get back the amount invested. The portfolio shown has similar investment objectives and strategies as the portfolio recommended to individual clients by their financial adviser; however, may not contain the same securities that are currently underlying the portfolio provided to individual clients. Specific securities mentioned should not be viewed as a recommendation to buy or sell such securities. Due to platform requirements, cash allocations may differ per platform.

There is no guarantee that a diversified portfolio will enhance overall returns or will outperform a non-diversified portfolio. Neither diversification nor asset allocation ensure a profit or guarantee against loss. It is important to note that investments in mutual funds involve risk, including as a result of market and general economic conditions, and will not always be profitable.

Morningstar Equity Style Box

The Morningstar Style Box is a nine-square grid that illustrates the investment style of a security. Size (large, mid, or small) is displayed along the vertical axis and style is displayed along the horizontal axis. The "value" and "growth" investment styles are common to both stocks and funds. For stocks, the central column of the Style Box represents the "core" style. Few or no funds contain only stocks with extreme value-growth orientations, and both value and growth managers often hold core stocks for diversification or other reasons. Therefore, for funds, the central column represents the "blend" style (a mixture of growth and value stocks or mostly core stocks).
