Miramar Ballroom CLE credit pending	How Legal Departments Should Think About ESG In a corporate landscape saturated with social and climate-related concerns, companies and their boards are being held accountable to address Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) issues. Beyond corporate governance and fiduciary duties as applied to sustainability and climate change, we will focus on corporate form and engagement with stakeholders (and shareholders) as part of the overall scaffolding that influences board and management decision-making, policies, and operations—to shift from incremental change to comprehensive ESG approaches that achieve both more impact and more value for a company. We will discuss how legal teams can address their involvement in compliance and reporting vs. strategy and value creation and ways in which legal teams can “see around corners” to be prepared for what is coming next in the rapidly evolving ESG field. Speakers: Ali Connaughton (Morrison Foerster), Elizabeth Lowery (ERM, GI Partners, and Piva), Suz Mac Cormac (Morrison Foerster), Amanda Riley (Autodesk), Stacey Sprenkel (Morrison Foerster)
Pescadero CLE credit pending	The Alphabet Soup of New State Privacy Laws: What to Prioritize Now to Come into Compliance In this interactive session, we will discuss the practical steps that your company can prioritize now toward compliance with the new California (CPRA), Virginia (VCDPA), Colorado (CPA), Connecticut (CTDPA), and Utah (UCPA) privacy laws, which become operative in 2023. We will focus on practical strategies for compliance across the states’ various requirements. Speakers: Kristen Mathews (Morrison Foerster), Julie O’Neill (Morrison Foerster), Marian Waldmann Agarwal (Morrison Foerster), Ruby Zefo (Uber Technologies)
Break 2:45 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.
Afternoon Breakout Session II 3:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Miramar Ballroom CLE credit pending	Uncharted Territory: Antitrust Enforcement in the Tech Sector A panel of seasoned antitrust litigators, and tech, and FinTech in-house counsel discusses key developments and enforcement trends, including U.S. and, increasingly, global enforcement efforts to protect competition in labor/talent markets. Learn how these trends impact tech transactional and merger analysis, compliance training (because of the new risk of criminal prosecution for companies and executives), and even routine contracts that include non-solicitation and non-compete provisions. We will discuss practical steps for clients to navigate this aggressive enforcement environment and to detect and minimize antitrust risk. Speakers: Catherine Chapple (Google), Megan Gerking (Morrison Foerster), Bonnie Lau (Morrison Foerster), Alanna Rutherford (Visa)

Miramontes CLE credit pending	The Rise of Mass Arbitrations This panel will cover the emerging trend of “mass arbitrations”—the coordinated filing of hundreds or thousands of individual arbitrations against a single company. We will discuss balancing the benefits of class actions waivers against the risk of mass arbitrations, along with overall strategies for navigating mass arbitration in both a consumer and employment context. Speakers: Julia Bredrup (Snap), Jessica Kaufman (Morrison Foerster), Suzy Marinkovich (Zoom Video Communications), Tritia Murata (Morrison Foerster), Nancy Thomas (Morrison Foerster), Katie Viggiani (Morrison Foerster)
Pescadero CLE credit pending	Government and Internal Investigations – Best Practices in 2022 and Beyond This panel will cover what to expect from the SEC, DOJ, and other regulatory agencies organizations in 2022 and beyond. We will discuss best practices when facing a government investigation and prophylactic measures clients can take to mitigate adverse consequences. Speakers: Jessica Chan (Uber Technologies), Jina Choi (Morrison Foerster), Carrie Cohen (Morrison Foerster), Veronica Ip (McKinsey & Company), Haima Marlier (Morrison Foerster)
