Get the right information, right when you need it

Health systems and hospitals are constantly looking for new ways to increase efficiencies and remove friction from their operations. Olive Helps users do just that. Through a lightweight desktop application, Olive Helps sense what a user needs, before whispering the right information at the right time through a Cybernetic Loop. These Loops are analogous to applications in an app store and are available through the Olive Loop Library.

By providing health employees with the right tools to carry out their everyday work, Olive Helps combat employee burnout and improve worker job satisfaction. In turn, empowering healthcare organizations to meet the Quadruple Aim of healthcare.

Olive Helps enhance the ROI of the human workforce by equipping humans with real time intelligence that improves their efficiency, reduces friction from their workflows, and increases the accuracy of the work being done. It also provides the simplest path to self-reliance for health systems and hospitals. Using the Olive Helps Loop Development Kit, healthcare organizations can create their own Loops to be used internally or commercialized externally for added sources of income.

Find loops that empower human workers, right in the loop library

The Olive Loop Library gives health systems and hospitals access to the pooled intelligence of the healthcare community. It's designed to give users access to a diverse set of Loops across varied functions, eliminating the divide between healthcare work and the industry's growing wisdom.
