

National Network Services

We offer a local point of contact for all your occupational health needs.
One Bill. One Team. One Solution.

We understand that managing a workforce is challenging and even more so when candidates are geographically dispersed. Hiring the right team members is paramount to the success of any organization and timing can be critical.

Our national network of occupational health clinics includes more than 3,000 service locations. These clinics can perform urine drug screen collections to assist you in maintaining a drug-free workplace.

Spectrum Health at Work has you covered as you hire and throughout your employee's time with your organization. We'll work with you to improve the health of your employees while lowering costs and improving productivity.

Pre-employment drug screening is the number one method of employee testing.

Spectrum Health recognizes the need for employer-based health care services that are comprehensive, customizable and innovative. To meet this need, Spectrum Health has positioned their clinics so that they can provide these services in a consistent format outside of our local market.

Reliable. Digitally screened urine testing removes inconsistencies of manual interpretation.

Automated. Electronic chain of custody forms shreds the reliance on paper chains.

Fast. Negative results are delivered in as little as 15 minutes for standard tests.

Powerful. Online application that gives you access to real-time event status and result reporting.

National. Our national network of clinics provides ease of access and a single source of information.

Service. One team that is dedicated to your business.
