Delivery on the way

A large illustration of a town with a winding path. The path starts at a delivery person on a scooter on the left and winds through a grid of houses. Each house has a purple roof and a light green body with two yellow windows. The letters of the alphabet are placed in the windows of the houses. The path is marked with a solid orange line and a dashed red line. Various outdoor objects are scattered throughout the town, including trees, flowers, a bench, and a swing set. The letters are arranged in a roughly circular path starting from 'a' at the top and ending with 'i' at the bottom right.
