PLAYER OF THE WEEK RELEASE

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – After clinching back-to-back shutout victories at home, the Belmont Bruins have swept the Southern Conference Offensive and Defensive Player of the Week awards for all competition from Aug. 31 to Sept. 6. Niccolo Dagnoni has been named Offensive Player of the Week, while Drew Romig earns the Defensive Player of the Week honor.

Dagnoni was a key contributor in Belmont's victory over UNC Asheville on Tuesday, with the junior forward assisting on Belmont's lone goal, as his go-ahead pass put Michael Saunders in position to find the back of the net for the 1-0 win over the Bulldogs. The helper was Dagnoni's 16th career assist, leaving the Milan, Italy, native tied for second place in program history with Paulo Boero (1992-95). Dagnoni also recorded his 42nd career point during the match, earning him the sixth-place position in Belmont's all-time career points category. Four days later, Dagnoni registered another assist against Southern Illinois-Edwardsville when he drove a perfectly placed go-ahead pass from around midfield to sophomore forward Tallyn Bronson, who fed a cross to AJ Chastonay for Belmont's lone goal, which allowed the Bruins to nab their second shutout of the week. The assist moved Dagnoni into sole possession of second place among Belmont's all-time assist leaders and into a tie with Jeremy Littlejohn (1995-98) for fifth place in program history in points.

Romig recorded two clean sheets for the Bruins in their matches against UNC Asheville and SIUE. He tallied only one save during the Bruins' match against the Bulldogs, and four days later against the Cougars, he totaled four saves, including an impressive, acrobatic save in the 34th minute. The Midlothian, Virginia, native, who earned the start in both of Belmont's matches, finished the week with five total saves.

Belmont (2-2) hosts Georgia State on Friday, Sept. 10, then the Bruins travel to Nashville, Tennessee, for a match at Lipscomb on Tuesday, Sept. 14.

Notes

- The SoCon men's soccer teams conclude week three with five of the seven programs clinching victories for all competition from Sept. 3-9, including Belmont, who picked up their second consecutive victory with a 1-0 win over SIUE, and Furman, UNCG, ETSU, and Wofford, who added one win each.
- Belmont (2-2) hosted SIUE on Monday and grabbed a 1-0 win over the Cougars, marking their second straight shutout win after defeating UNC Asheville 1-0 last week. The Bruins have now won back-to-back games at Rose Park for four consecutive seasons.
- AJ Chastonay led Belmont to it's second straight shutout after the sophomore midfielder connected with Niccolo Dagnoni and Tallyn Bronson on their go-ahead passes to net a right footed dagger in the 43rd minute. Prior to the goal, Player of the Week reciepient Drew Romig made an impressive acrobatic save on a clean kicked ball headed for the upper right side of the net in the 34th minute.
- Dagnoni's assist allowed him to claim sole possession of second place among Belmont's all-time assist leaders. The senior forward has 17 career assists and now owns 43 career points, which is tied with Jeremy Littlejohn (1995-98) for fifth place in program history in points.
- Furman (1-2) improved to 1-1 on the season, with the Paladins securing their first victory with a 2-1 win over the Runnin' Bulldogs of Gardner-Webb before falling 3-1 to the Eagles of Winthrop on Monday.
- Jake Raine gave Furman a 1-0 lead early in the 20th minute in their match against the Runnin' Bulldogs with his first goal of the season, but Gardner-Webb would answer with a goal of their own in the 79th minute to tie the score 1-1. Dylan Lane scored the final and game-winning goal for Furman in the 87th minute, sealing the 2-1 win for the Paladins.
- Raine led Furman offensively in their match against the Eagles, recording six shots, including two on goal, while tallying one goal and one assist.
- ETSU (2-1) had an impressive 4-2 win over Radford on Saturday, improving to 2-0 before falling 4-1 to #10 Marshall on Tuesday, giving the Buccaneers their first loss of the season.
- ETSU held a 14-11 advantage in shots, forcing the Highlanders into four saves and the Buccaneers also held a 5-3 tally in corner kicks. The win over Radford marks the first time since 2014 that ETSU started a season 2-0 and the four goals marks just the third time the Bucs reached that mark in the David Casper era.
- UNCG and Wofford both went 1-1 in week three, with UNCG grabbing a 3-2 win over Stetson, before falling to St. Joseph's 2-1. The Terriers suffered a 2-0 loss to Georgia Southern at home before their 1-0 defeat of Gardner-Webb on Tuesday.
