2020-21 SoCon Men's Soccer Semifinals Recaps

GREENVILLE, S.C. – No. 4 seed Belmont defeated No. 1 seed and 25th-ranked Furman 3-1 in the first semifinal game of the 2020-21 Southern Conference Men's Soccer Championship on Friday. The Bruins will advance to the final, marking their first-ever championship title game appearance.

The Bruins were the first on the board with a header from forward Liam O'Brien that was crossed over from teammate Jack Shaw in the 10th minute, marking the junior's fourth goal on the season. O'Brien's goal ended Furman's four-game shutout streak that began on March 23 against Mercer.

After Furman pulled even on Jake Raine's goal in the 62nd minute, Belmont freshman AJ Chastonay scored what would prove to be the game-winning goal in the 79th minute, with his fifth of the season putting the Bruins back on top for good. Freshman Michael Saunders added a late insurance tally, powering the ball to the back of the net with just one minute left in regulation.

Belmont's defense did not allow Furman a single shot on goal and held the Paladins to three only shots in the first half. Niccolo Dagnoni found his first shot on goal late in the first half, but Furman goalie Ben Hale dove in for his first save of the match.

Raine, the SoCon's co-freshman of the year, scored his sixth goal on the season to tie the game, 1-1, at the 61:33 mark with assists from Miles Fenton and Josh Hosie. Hale tallied his third save of the game on Dagnoni's penalty kick late in the second half. The transition to the opposite side of the field led to two straight saves from Belmont's Drew Romig, marking his 19th and 20th saves of the season.

GREENSBORO, N.C. – No. 2 seed UNCG advanced to the 2020-21 Southern Conference Men's Soccer Championship title game with a 2-1 win over No. 3 seed ETSU in the semifinals on Saturday. The Spartans will host No. 4 seed Belmont in the championship title game on Saturday, April 17, at 6 p.m. ET.

The game was off to a slow start with only one shot on target within the first 20 minutes of the game, which came from UNCG's Myson Darden just 53 seconds into the match. ETSU goalie Josh Perryman tallied his first save of the game from Darden's early attempt.

Theo Collomb, the SoCon co-freshman of the year, ended the 147 scoreless minutes between UNCG and ETSU's back-to-back games with the first goal in the 37th minute off an assist from Austmann. Collomb tallied his conference-leading seventh goal of the season. Perryman and UNCG's Niclas Wild tallied two saves each entering the locker room at halftime, with UNCG holding the 1-0 advantage.

ETSU's Jared Leheta took it behind the Spartans' backline to place the Bucs on the board in the 71st minute for the team's first goal of the game and the freshman's sixth goal of the year. Teammate Cameron Carroll sent the ball back onto the field from a corner kick to attempt to tie the game in the 76th minute, but the Bucs fell short in their 2-1 loss.

NOTES

- The 2020-21 SoCon Men's Soccer Championship will take place between No. 2 UNCG and No. 4 Belmont on April 17 at 6 p.m. The game will be streamed on ESPN+.
- The tournament winner earns the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Men's Soccer Championship.
- UNCG will make its fourth straight appearance in the championship game and its 14th in program history, while Belmont will be making its first-ever appearance.
- UNCG eliminated Belmont in the 2019 SoCon semifinals and defeated the Bruins, 3-2, in overtime on March 27 in regular season action.
- No. 4 Belmont beat No. 1 Furman 3-1 in Friday's semifinal match. The last time a team defeated Furman in the SoCon tournament by at least two goals was in 2003 when Davidson won 3-0 in the semifinals.
- Friday's semifinal game marked back-to-back conference tournament semifinals appearances for the first time in Belmont's program history. It also received its highest seed (No. 4) since joining the SoCon in 2018.
- The Bruins earned their first win over a ranked opponent in Friday's game against No. 25 Furman since Sept. 29, 2011, when it defeated No. 22 East Tennessee State by a score of 3-1 at home.
- Belmont's three goals against Furman made them only the second team this season to score that many against the Paladins.
- If the Bruins win Saturday's game, it will mark the team's first conference championship title in program history.
- The Spartans received votes this week's College Soccer News Top 30 National Poll for the first time this season on Monday, joining Furman as the only two teams to be included in rankings this year.
- UNCG enters Saturday's SoCon championship match against Belmont with a five-match unbeaten streak (4-0-1).
- The Spartans have outscored opponents 10-3 in their last five game and recorded three clean sheets.
- Belmont's AJ Chastonay and UNCG's Angel Bacho were named to the Top Drawer Soccer National Team of the Week, the site announced Tuesday morning.
- Theo Collomb, the SoCon co-freshman of the year, ended the 147 scoreless minutes between UNCG and ETSU's back-to-back games with the first goal in the 37th minute off an assist from Austmann. Collomb tallied his conference-leading seventh goal of the season.

SoCon 100TH ANNIVERSARY

The SoCon is celebrating its 100th anniversary in 2021. The fifth-oldest NCAA Division I college athletic association, the SoCon contested the first-ever collegiate conference basketball tournament in 1921, tackled freshman eligibility in 1922, became the first conference to adopt the 3-point field goal in basketball in 1980 and developed women's championships in 1984.

SOCON ALL-CONFERENCE HONORS

SPARTANBURG, S.C. – Furman redshirt senior Ben Hale claimed this year's Southern Conference Men's Soccer Player and Goalkeeper of the Year awards, marking the first time a student-athlete has earned both awards since the addition of goalkeeper of the year in 2014. Forwards Jake Raine of Furman and Theo Collomb of UNCG shared the SoCon Freshman of the Year honor due to ties in the voting.

Furman's Doug Allison, the winningest men's soccer coach in conference history with 316 wins, was named the league's coach of the year for the second straight year and ninth time overall after the Paladins earned their 21st SoCon regular-season title. Allison led the Paladins to a 7-1-1 overall record, 5-0-1 conference record and two top-25 national weekly rankings.

The league's seven coaches also named two all-conference teams and an all-freshman squad. This season's all-freshman team includes 12 student-athletes because of ties in the voting. Coaches were not allowed to vote for their own players or themselves.

Furman tallied a conference-leading nine total players who earned postseason recognition, including a conference-best six players on the all-conference first team. Belmont featured seven players, while UNCG had five. Mercer and ETSU had four and three student-athletes represented, respectively, as Wofford rounded out the squads with one selection.

Hale led all SoCon goalkeepers with a .850 save percentage and 0.73 goals against average. He ranks second in saves per game (4.25) and shutouts (four) while ranking fourth with 34 saves. The Frisco, Texas, native only allowed six goals and helped lead the Paladins to six shutouts in their nine matches this season. Hale was named the SoCon Defensive Player of the Week on March 30, making him one of eight SoCon men's soccer players in conference history to earn the weekly honor at least four times. The redshirt senior was also named the league's defensive player of the month for February and added a first-team selection to his Goalkeeper and Player of the Year honors.

Raine, who is also an all-freshman and All-SoCon first-team selection, leads Furman with 11 points on five goals and an assist with three game-winning goals. His three game-winning goals lead the conference while his five goals are tied for second. Raine earned offensive player of the week honors on March 16 after netting a season-high two goals, including the match-winning score, to hand Furman a 2-1, double-overtime victory against ETSU on March 12. The freshman from Stoke, England, is the first Paladin to earn freshman of the year honors since Bobby Edet in 2013.

UNCG's Collomb, who was also voted as freshman of the year, powered UNCG to a 3-1-2 conference record as the Spartans finished the regular season as the No. 2 seed in head coach Chris Rich's second season. The Clermont, France, native found the back of the net a conference-best six times this year with three assists. His six goals and 15 points on the season lead the SoCon. Collomb garnered offensive player of the week honors once, was named the offensive player of the month for March, and is an all-freshman and All-SoCon first-team selection in his first collegiate season.

Furman forward Shaun-Chris Joash, midfielders Miles Fenton and Callum Holland, and defender Cole McLagan join Hale and Raine to represent the Paladins on the first team. Joash tied with Raine as the team's leader in goals (five), points (11) and game-winning goals (three). The sophomore was named the offensive player of the week once and offensive player of the month for February.

McLagan, a redshirt senior, has helped ignite the Paladin offense and defense this year. He tallied three goals and added two assists on two match-winning scores this season, in addition to powering a defense that only allowed six goals in nine matches. McLagan was named the offensive player of the week on March 23 for his two goals and assist on Joash's game-winning score in overtime that led Furman to a 3-2 come-from-behind win at UNCG.

Defender Tommy Kay earned his second straight All-SoCon second-team honor as the only Paladin represented on the second team. Kay, a redshirt sophomore from Ocala, Florida, started in all nine games this season. The Paladins placed three players on the all-freshman team in Raine, Josh Hosie and Sam Miller.

Belmont's seven players honored set a program best since the Bruins joined the SoCon in 2018. Five players were selected to the all-conference second team in Niccolo Dagnoni (forward), Liam O'Brien (forward), AJ Chastonay (midfielder), Jack Shaw (defender) and Drew Romig (goalkeeper). Dagnoni and Shaw are tied for the conference lead in the in assists (three), while Romig is tied for second with four shutouts. Chastonay and Romig earned player of the week honors on February 23 and March 16, respectively.

Chastonay scored nine points on four goals, including two game-winners, and one assist this season. The Louisville, Kentucky, native is joined on the all-freshman squad by teammates Michael Saunders and Eric Stiles. The three freshmen combined tallied 12 points, four goals and four assists on the season.

UNCG's Collomb, midfielder Fernando Garcia and defender Emmanuel Hagan represent the Spartans on the All-SoCon first team. Garcia ranks second in the conference in goals (five) and third in points per game (1.25). Hagan, a defender, started in seven of the Spartans' 11 games and contributed to UNCG's five shutouts. Hagan is also an all-freshman selection and is joined by goalkeeper Niclas Wild, who finished the regular season with an 0.82 goals against average and four shutouts.

On the second team, the UNCG is represented by midfielder Mani Austmann. Austmann ranks second in the SoCon with 12 points on five goals and two assists. The sophomore from Gardarbaer, Iceland, was named the offensive player of the week on March 9 after scoring the game-winning goal against Longwood to help lead the Spartans to their fourth straight victory for a 4-1 start, which marked their best start since 2004.

Dylan Gaither was the lone first-team selection for Mercer after tying for second in the conference in points (12) and goals (five) and third for game-winning goals (two). Forward Dawson Gideon and defender Kareve Richards represent the Bears on the second team. Gideon notched four goals and one assist this season, while Richards tallied an assist in the Bears' first win of season on Sept. 22 against Georgia Southern. Nick Wanzer was the Bears' lone inclusion on the all-freshman team after scoring his first collegiate goal in Mercer's 3-1 win over Wofford on March 27.

Wofford defender Buster Sjoberg rounded out the All-SoCon first team after being named to the all-freshman and all-conference second teams last season.

ETSU's Jared Leheta and Kieran Richards were both named to the All-SoCon second team. Joining Leheta on the all-freshman team is forward Tarik Pannholzer, who was rewarded for his strong offensive play on April 6 as he was named the conference's offensive player of the week. The freshman from Flensburg, Germany, scored three goals and assisted on another as the Bucs set a program record for goals scored in ETSU's 7-0 win against VMI on March 30. He became only the second Buccaneer in program history to record a hat trick, joining Fletcher Ekern's accomplishment achieved in October 2016 against UNCG.

No. 1 Furman will face No. 4 seed Belmont in the SoCon Men's Soccer Championship semifinals on Friday, April 9, in Greenville, South Carolina, at 6 p.m. ET. The second semifinal match between No. 2 UNCG and No. 3 ETSU will take place on Saturday, April 10, at 6 p.m. ET in Greensboro, North Carolina.

The championship match will take place Friday, April 16, or Saturday, April 17, at the highest remaining seed. The tournament winner earns the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Men's Soccer Championship.
