

U.S. OLYMPIANS & PARALYMPIANS ASSOCIATION

Chaunté Lowe, OLY - Track and Field (2004, '08, '12, '16) - Georgia Chapter

The USOPA Award of Excellence honors Olympians and Paralympians who continue to embody the values of the Olympic and Paralympic movements long after competition ends—demonstrating courage, perseverance, integrity, and service in their everyday lives.

Chaunté Lowe is the definition of resilience and rising above. Throughout her career, she rose to the highest levels of sport as a four-time Olympian and one of the most accomplished high jumpers in U.S. history. A standout athlete at Georgia Tech and a proud representative of Team USA on the world stage, Chaunté's journey has been marked by excellence, determination, and an unwavering commitment to pushing beyond limits.

Her story, however, extends far beyond competition. When faced with a breast cancer diagnosis, Chaunté once again showed the world what true strength looks like. With courage and perseverance, she faced the challenge head-on, becoming an inspiration to countless individuals both within and outside the sports community. Her ability to overcome adversity while remaining a source of positivity and encouragement for others exemplifies the very values this award represents.

Today, Chaunté continues to use her platform to uplift and empower others. Through her speaking engagements and her show, The Lowe Point, she shares her message of resilience, hope, and perseverance—encouraging others to believe in their ability to overcome obstacles and rise in their own lives. Her impact continues to be felt far beyond the track, reaching individuals and communities across the country.

In recognition of her achievements and contributions, Chaunté was recently inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame and presented with the USOPA Award of Excellence by Atlanta Chapter President Al Mead, PLY (1988, 1992).

Chaunté Lowe's journey is a powerful reminder that the true legacy of an athlete is not only defined by medals and records, but by the lives they touch and the example they set. Through her strength, leadership, and commitment to serving others, she continues to inspire the next generation to rise.

The Georgia Chapter of the United States Olympians and Paralympians Association is proud to present the USOPA Award of Excellence to Chaunté Lowe.
