What is a Section 11 Application?

An amateur sports organization who wishes to replace an existing National Governing Body (NGB) for a particular sport may file a Section 11 application with the USOPC. The applying organization must articulate the current NGB's non-compliance and show how it could more adequately fulfill NGB obligations. Section 11 applications are only accepted within the 1-year period after the final day of the Olympic or Paralympic Games (or Pan/Parapan American Games for sports not on the program of the Olympic or Paralympic Games).

DRU receives the application, reviews filing deficiencies, acknowledges the application, provides education to hearing panel members, serves as a liaison and counsel to the hearing panel, communicates with the parties, and oversees the general case management, among any other administrative or legal support.

Review & Acknowledgement

Upon the filing of a Section 11 application in accordance with the requirements in the USOPC Dispute Resolution Policy, DRU is immediately notified of the application. DRU reviews the application in a timely manner to ensure all filing requirements are met. In particular, this may include review of the timeframe for submission of the application and compliance with any other filing requirement as outlined in the USOPC Dispute Resolution Policy.

If any of the minimum filing requirements are not met, DRU will notify the applicant of the deficiency and provide them with an opportunity to correct. DRU makes no legal determination or judgment as to the merits of the application, but rather ensures that the application meets the minimum requirements for filing.

After any potential filing deficiencies have been corrected, DRU formally acknowledges receipt of the Section 11 application with the applicant sport organization, along with providing notice of the application to the NGB in the case. ### Hearing Panel Appointment (continued)

For this application process, the Chair of the USOPC board appoints a three-person disinterested hearing panel comprised of: (i) USOPC board member, (ii) NGB Council (NGBC) representative, and (iii) Athletes' Advisory Council (AAC) representative. DRU will identify, vet, and recommend individuals for the NGBC and AAC positions after consultation with the chair of the NGBC and chair of the AAC. DRU may also assist in the recommendation of the USOPC board member position. DRU provides the candidate recommendations to the chair of the USOPC board for final appointment.

In the vetting and appointment process, DRU also gathers any disclosures the panel members have and ensures that proper disclosures are provided to the parties with an opportunity to provide any objections to a panel member.

Hearing Panel Education

DRU provides education to the hearing panel members upon appointment. This includes providing an overview of the governing authority for the application process and jurisdictional basis (e.g. from the Act, a specific section from the USOPC Bylaws or other policy), explaining relevant precedents and standards, outlining the various steps in the process, detailing a panel member's role and authority, and clarifying any additional responsibilities required of panel members.

DRU delivers a presentation, intended for education of hearing panel members, immediately upon appointment. Education for hearing panel members occurs on a continuous basis throughout the process. This includes providing memos on various precedents and standards, outlining agendas, answering questions and offering guidance on the hearing panel authority, all in an objective manner.

Hearing Panel Support

DRU serves as liaison to the hearing panel in this type of proceeding. This includes setting up meetings, staying apprised of filings, forwarding party communication, answering procedural and logistical questions, and working through hearing panel needs. As all hearing panels are comprised of volunteers, DRU is respectful of the hearing panel members' time and serves to support them in their role by making any part of the process as streamlined and efficient as possible.

In the role as legal counsel to the hearing panel, the attorney may provide general legal advice and guidance and answer any questions related to legal issues that arise in the proceeding. This includes setting out the standards and scope of review so the hearing panel understands the appropriate purview of the proceeding, along with its authority. A representative of DRU participates in all hearing panel deliberations to assist the hearing panel with points of clarification, but does not have any decision-making authority. DRU drafts all orders, decisions and/or reports in line with the hearing panel's decision in each particular case for final review and approval by the hearing panel.

Communication with Parties

DRU communicates directly with the parties or involved individuals in the case and serves as a liaison between the parties and the hearing panel. DRU may answer logistical, administrative, or other questions from the parties directly, along with addressing any procedural questions on behalf of the USOPC.

Additionally, DRU ensures that hearing panel members have access to case details in an effective manner. To accomplish this, DRU may create an external case management site for hearing panel members. DRU also keeps an ongoing and updated summary of all filings/submissions, along with a spreadsheet of the timeline of key events, to assist hearing panel members in staying apprised of the high-level information in a case. DRU reminds hearing panel members about upcoming or past deadlines and may communicate with the parties if deadlines are not complied with.

DRU ensures that all orders, decisions and awards from cases are publicly posted on USOPC.org.

To provide services for an effective proceeding, DRU provides logistical support for any conference calls or hearings. DRU sets up all conference calls, including providing links or call-in details and sending calendar invites and reminders. DRU completes roll call for all calls and hearings, keeps track of time, and assists with taking notes, when appropriate.

Additionally, DRU arranges all administrative aspects for each hearing, including setting the conference line and/or securing office space, providing breakout rooms for the parties and the hearing panel, arranging travel and accommodations for hearing panel members, distributing case materials to the hearing panel members and counsel, IT setup requests, and any other logistical issue that may arise.

Arbitration Support

The USOPC Board has the authority to determine which arbitral organization is appointed to hear Section 11 applications. DRU serves as a liaison to the designated arbitral body for the administration of Section 11 cases.

The USOPC Dispute Resolution Policy provides that the USOPC may participate in the arbitration process for these matters. A representative from DRU will, at a minimum, observe the arbitration proceeding. Additionally, a representative of DRU may answer questions on behalf of the USOPC during the proceedings that an arbitrator may request. In instances where the USOPC may have a direct interest in the case, an attorney from DRU may represent the USOPC in the proceeding and participate to any extent, including as a party.
