Berlitz Kids language camps

1. Parties to the contract and organizers of the camps

The parties to the contract are the organizer of the camp named below and the legal guardian who signed the registration form authorizing the child's participation. The legal guardian who signed the form is therefore the 'customer' within the terminology of these terms and conditions. In registering the child, the customer confirms that all the child's legal guardians consent to the child's participation in the camp. Should this not be the case, the customer shall be liable to Berlitz for any resulting damage, losses and/or claims arising. The contractual partner for the booking of language camps is the organizer of the camp in question. The organizer is determined as follows: Camps in Germany, Great Britain and France are conducted by Berlitz Deutschland GmbH, which is your contractual partner in this case.

2. Conclusion of contract

2.1. The Kids Camp offers in the Berlitz catalogues do not constitute a binding offer to conclude a travel contract but are merely an invitation to the customer to submit a registration (contractual offer by the customer). The binding registration shall be made by the customer for all participants listed in the registration, for whose contractual obligations the customer shall be liable as well as for their own obligations, if they have assumed a corresponding separate obligation by means of an express and separate declaration. The travel contract shall be concluded by means of a written order confirmation sent together with the invoice from Berlitz by email or post.

2.2. Products may be ordered online via the Berlitz online shop. The customer will have the opportunity to check, correct or delete their details at any time up to the end of the ordering process. Input errors can also be corrected by navigating backwards through the browser, or aborting the order and starting again from the beginning. In order to complete the order, the customer must accept the applicable conditions and confirm the purchase. The customer will then receive an order confirmation by email. Berlitz will store the order and the order data that has been entered. The customer will receive an order confirmation by email and may access the current GTC online and print these out at any time.

3. Statements of prices and payment conditions

3.1. Berlitz services, transfers and/or products are charged at the prices applicable when the order was placed.

3.2. The prices stated on www.berlitz.com/en-de or in Berlitz printed documents are final prices and include statutory value added tax insofar as this tax is chargeable for the service or product in question. Face-to-face language instruction is exempt from value added tax in Germany (Section 4 No. 21a and 21b UStG [Value Added Tax Act]) meaning that no value added tax is charged in this case.

3.3. The applicable prices are derived from the description of the service or product on www.berlitz.com/en-de. The user agrees to pay this price. Payment is due when the service or product is ordered. The full amount is due and payable without deductions.

3.4. Payment for Kids & Teens language camps in the online shop can be made by direct debit or credit card. If paying by credit card, the full amount must be paid. Payment processing is carried out by SIX Payment Services (Europe) S.A., Frankfurt/Main Branch, Dreieichstraße 59, 60594 Frankfurt, using the Saferpay™ platform. Should the registration be made via the registration form (offline), payment may be made by bank transfer or direct debit.

3.5. Upon conclusion of the contract and following receipt of the guarantee certificate pursuant to Sect. 651k par. 3 BGB, a deposit of €165.00 per participant is due and will be credited against the total price of the travel package. The deposit must be made to Berlitz within one week of receipt of the travel confirmation and guarantee certificate. If the trip is booked less than 6 weeks before departure, payment of the entire trip price is due at this point. The remaining payment is, unless otherwise agreed, due 6 weeks before departure without a further request for payment being required. The travel documents will be available for the customer to download from a Berlitz online portal. The link for this will be provided on the invoice. The customer will also receive the contact details of the camp leader by email one week before departure at the latest. Should the customer fail to pay the deposit or make the remaining payment within the aforementioned due deadlines, Berlitz is entitled to withdraw from the contract after issuing a payment demand with a set deadline on pain of denial of further services, and to charge withdrawal costs to the traveler pursuant to section 6.

3.6. The customer does not have any right to receive the travel documents or to make use of travel services until the travel package price has been paid in full.

4. Contractual items

The contractual item is the binding participation in the language camp offered according to the descriptions contained in the Berlitz camp catalog and/or on the Berlitz website. Shared transfers shall only be considered contractual items subject to availability and after a transfer fee has been paid.

In the event that changes and variations in individual services from the agreed content become necessary after conclusion of the contract and are not brought about by Berlitz contrary to good faith, such changes and variations are permitted as long as they are not extensive, do not significantly alter the overall service and do not impair the offer of the trip as a whole. Berlitz agrees to inform the customer of all changes and variations to the services agreed and the reason for the change without culpable delay upon becoming aware of these. Any warranty claims remain unaffected, should any amended services be faulty or incomplete. In the event of necessary extensive changes or variations to individual services, the customer is entitled to withdraw from the travel contract without penalty. Alternatively, the customer may request a place in another language camp of equal or greater value, provided that Berlitz is in a position to offer such an alternative language camp from its own range of offers at no extra cost to the customer.

The customer must assert this right to Berlitz without delay upon receipt of a declaration from Berlitz informing the customer of the change to the agreed service. Berlitz must make this declaration informing the customer of the change directly to the customer without delay as soon as Berlitz becomes aware of the reason that justifies the change.

Service providers (such as local language schools) and/or travel agencies are not empowered by Berlitz in any way to make assurances or to reach agreements that go beyond or contradict any of the statements in the service descriptions on the Berlitz website or in the Berlitz printed documents, or to modify any of the contents of the travel contract confirmed by Berlitz to the customer.

5. Duration of contract and cancellation

The duration of the contract is based on the content of the service description for the camp booked. Cancellation during the duration of the contract is only possible for good cause (extraordinary cancellation for exceptional reasons according to Sect. 314 BGB). Good cause must be credibly demonstrated at the time of cancellation. Corresponding documentary evidence must be attached. If the trip is seriously hindered, endangered or impaired due to unforeseeable force majeure (e.g. extreme weather conditions at the course location) then both Berlitz and the customer may cancel the contract. If the contract is cancelled, Berlitz may demand reasonable compensation for the services that have already been rendered or must still be rendered in order to terminate the trip.

6. Withdrawal from the contract

6.1. Customer's right of withdrawal

The customer may withdraw from the trip in writing at any time before its commencement. The date on which Berlitz receives the notice of withdrawal is definitive. We recommend that the customer provide notice of withdrawal by means of a registered letter with proof of receipt to Berlitz Deutschland GmbH, Hahnstraße 68–70, 60528 Frankfurt, Germany. The customer is not obliged to pay the cost of the travel package if they withdraw from the contract. However, Berlitz may still demand reasonable compensation. This is determined on a pro-rata basis as follows:

- Withdrawal up to 4 weeks before the agreed departure date: €165.00
- Withdrawal later than 4 weeks before the agreed departure date: 100% of the price of the travel package
- If the customer does not begin the trip but has not given notice of withdrawal or cancellation: 100% of the travel package price
- Cancellation of transfers later than 3 weeks before the agreed departure date: 100% of the ticket price

In all cases, the customer is then at liberty to demonstrate to Berlitz that the expenses and services saved by the participant's absence as well as other use of the travel services that thus became available justify a lower level of compensation or none at all.

6.2. Berlitz's right of withdrawal

If, for example, the minimum number of 12 participating persons is not achieved, Berlitz may withdraw from the travel contract in accordance with the following provisions:

Withdrawal by Berlitz is possible up to 4 weeks before the agreed departure date. Berlitz is obliged to inform the customer once it has been established that the trip will not be held because the minimum number of participants has not been reached. In this case, Berlitz shall without delay send a notice of withdrawal to the customer and the cost of the travel package paid by the customer shall be refunded immediately. In the event of withdrawal by Berlitz because the minimum number of participants has not been reached, the customer may request a place in another language camp of equal or greater value, if Berlitz is able to offer such a camp from its own range of offers, at no extra expense to the customer. The customer must assert this right to Berlitz without delay upon receiving the notice of withdrawal by Berlitz.

Berlitz may cancel the contract after departure with immediate effect if a participant continually disrupts its performance of the contract despite receiving a warning from Berlitz or if the participant behaves in violation of the contract to such an extent that immediate cancellation of the contract is justified (extraordinary cancellation for exceptional reasons under the terms of Sect. 314 BGB). If Berlitz is forced to cancel the contract for good cause, Berlitz retains its fundamental right to retain the price of the trip; however Berlitz must take into account the value of the expenses and services saved by the participant's absence as well as any financial gains from other services not used by the participant, including any amounts credited to Berlitz by its service providers.

7. Language camp rules, interruption and premature termination of stay

Children and youths must comply with the camp's house rules and follow the instructions of its supervisors. The consumption of alcohol or illicit drugs is strictly forbidden. Berlitz will not grant any refund for services that were not used or for payments already made for children who interrupt or terminate their stay in the camp prematurely for reasons for which Berlitz bears no responsibility. Children with infectious diseases cannot be allowed to continue their stay in the camp in order to avoid as much as possible the risk of infecting other participants. A refund is also excluded if a child has to leave the camp due to their own misbehavior. Should a child need medical assistance during their stay in the camp, all additional expenses such as for visits to doctors and hospital as well as for other required medical care are to be borne by the legal guardians. These costs are to be reimbursed immediately upon presentation of receipts insofar as they have been paid in advance by Berlitz. Berlitz strongly recommends taking out an individual travel cancellation and curtailment insurance policy before the commencement of travel.

8. Rebooking

If an enrolled course participant moves to another federal state of Germany in which the school vacation dates conflict with attendance at the camp, and if this is proven by presenting the appropriate documents, then a free rebooking for another camp which is held during the new school vacation period is possible, provided there are vacancies at this other camp. If there are no suitable vacancies available, the amount paid for the camp will be reimbursed.

9. Substitute programs

In the case that the provision of a program item becomes impossible in a particular case due to force majeure (e.g. bad weather), Berlitz reserves the right to implement a substitute program. Cancellation of the camp due to such a change to a program item is not possible.

10. Warranty, remedy

If the trip is not provided in accordance with the contract and there is thus a deficiency in the trip, the customer is entitled to demand a remedy. Berlitz can refuse the remedy if this would involve disproportionate effort. Berlitz may also provide a remedy in such a way that substitute provision of equal or greater value is provided. The customer may demand a corresponding reduction in the price of the travel package for the time during which the trip was not conducted in accordance with the contract. The trip price shall be reduced proportionally according to the full value of the defect-free trip as agreed at the time of sale to its actual value in view of the defect. There is no right to a reduction in price if the customer culpably omitted to notify Berlitz of the defect.

If the trip is seriously impaired as a consequence of a deficiency and if Berlitz does not provide any remedy within a reasonable period of grace to be set by the customer, the customer may cancel the travel contract in accordance with the statutory provisions. We recommend that the customer declare such a cancellation by means of a registered letter with proof of receipt. A period of grace for providing a remedy may be dispensed with only if there is no remedy, or if Berlitz definitively refuses to provide a remedy, or if immediate termination of the contract is justified by a special interest on the part of the customer. As a result of such a cancellation by the customer, Berlitz loses its right to be paid the price of the trip package.

However, Berlitz may demand compensation for the services that have already been rendered as well as for the services, if any, which are still to be rendered in order to bring the trip to an end. The amount of this compensation in relation to the original trip package price shall be calculated according to how much lower the value of these services is in relation to the value of the complete original package. However, the customer shall not be required to pay any compensation if these services are of no further interest to the customer after the contract is cancelled.

The customer may demand compensation for non-fulfillment without prejudice to their mitigation or cancellation rights unless the deficiency in the travel package is due to circumstances for which Berlitz bears no responsibility.

11. Liability

11.1. Should an instance of damage or loss caused by Berlitz be neither intentional nor due to gross negligence, Berlitz's liability for contractual compensation claims unrelated to physical injury shall be limited to three times the price of the travel package. The same shall apply even if Berlitz is liable for such damage or loss only due to the fault of one of its agents or executive employees.

Berlitz's liability shall also be restricted to three times the price of the travel package in the case of compensation claims for property damage due to unlawful acts unless these claims are caused by intent or gross negligence.

Berlitz assumes no liability for damage to health or other injuries to participants or third parties unless these are to be attributed to the conduct of Berlitz or its supervisory staff that is culpably in violation of their duties. The same applies to loss, theft or damage in relation to items brought by a participant to the camp. Insofar as damage to property of third parties is to be attributed to the culpable conduct of the participant, the customer in question shall be liable. This applies most especially to camp facilities and items brought into the camp by Berlitz. Thus the customer agrees to review their current third-party liability and personal accident insurance (family insurance) policies accordingly. Berlitz recommends, purely as a precaution, that expensive electronic devices, jewelry and similar valuables should not be brought into the camp.

11.2. With regard to organized shared transfers, Berlitz accepts no liability in case of delay to or cancellation of services by DB. This also applies to missed connections or not receiving a reserved seat due to train or schedule changes. Shared transfers can be booked until the maximum number of participants is reached. Shared transfers must be booked 3 weeks before the camp starts at the latest. Customers are not entitled to shared transfers.
