1 Month Reminder: Index Name Change Notice

Morningstar Indexes is changing the names of the US indexes in the Morningstar Global Markets Indexes series family listed here. These changes are intended to more closely align the individual index names with the series name and allow for clearer differentiation across the broader index offering. We will be implementing the name changes after market close on May 29, 2026 effective June 1, 2026.

As a result, the file names for these indexes will be updated. The list of updated file names for the impacted indexes can be found here. Please notify all relevant technical departments in your organization about the changes, as there may be an impact to existing parsers or other systems and processes.
