

Enterprise reporting is at the heart of business operations, delivering mission-critical content to customers, partners, and stakeholders. While most BI systems offer basic features like exporting tables or printing dashboards, few meet the demands of enterprise-grade reporting. Advanced capabilities like pixel-perfect paginated reporting, high-scale report bursting, and personalized messaging are essential to achieving true enterprise reporting excellence.

Strategy One merges the latest AI and cloud innovations to provide a comprehensive platform for enterprise reporting. Empower business teams with high-performance tools that are customizable, scalable, and easy to manage. Deliver precise, efficient, and flexible reporting solutions that drive business success.

The Data Cure: Boosting Reporting Adoption

A leading pharmaceutical company has more than 2,500 executives and managers using their financial reporting apps, achieving 2-3x higher adoption compared to the replaced BOBJ, Veeva, and Tableau products.

Advanced Enterprise-Grade Reporting That Customers Can Trust

“Strategy powers us to be able to act. It is the exposing of that underlying data that allows our care providers to be able to make the decisions that they need to make to really improve the care for our patients. It is more than just visualization. It is more than just self-service. It is also where we bring together our data assets for advanced analytics.”

- Joshua Merrill
Manager, Data Delivery & Analytics,
Boston Children’s Hospital

“Strategy has helped us take all of this explosion of data, structure it effectively, in a way that we can provide it back to frontline team members, business managers, strategy leaders across the company. So that they can use it to make their decisions. And to me, that’s where the power is. Our Strategy tools have empowered consistency.”
