

TEEN TECH TEAMS GRANT PROGRAM RULES

1. Best Buy Teen Tech Teams Grant program (the “Best Buy Program”) will review and select robotics teams to participate in Best Buy Program, which includes but is not limited to the provision of a cash donation of $5,000 (five thousand) (“Cash Donation”) by Best Buy Canada and ONE (1) Alienware Gaming Laptop by Dell Alienware (value of up to $2500 CAD) to each of the selected teams.
2. No purchase is necessary to enter Best Buy Program. Best Buy Program is voluntary and the provision of 5,000 to the selected teams is donation. Any and all equipment purchased with the Cash Donation becomes the property of the selected robotics team.
3. The Program is open to all Canadian robotics teams who are registered to compete in a robotics competition with members range in age from 13 to 18 years old.
4. The Application form must be fully completed and approved by the robotics team’s teacher or sponsor. For Best Buy Program, the applicable school district or organization will be required to execute the Best Buy Program Agreement. Best Buy Canada reserves the right to amend this agreement.
5. Only one application per robotics team for Best Buy Program can be submitted during each submission period.
6. The Cash Donation can only be used to purchase technology or equipment to build a robot for a robotics competition. Donation cannot be used to pay for travel.
7. Best Buy Program participation will be determined by a cross-sectional panel of Best Buy Canada employees. The panel will decide which robotics teams will be selected to participate in Best Buy Program based on the quality of the applications provided, the impact the new technology will have on the teens, and other considerations, including but not limited to: how the technology purchased with Cash Donation will inspire, motivate and empower teens; how the new technology will level playing fields for robotics teams; how many teens will be impacted by the Cash Donation; and the robotics team’s need for resources. Decisions of the panel in respect of any aspect of Best Buy Program are final and binding on all participants.
8. The applicant and its applicable school board or organization may be contacted if additional information regarding the application is required.
9. Applicants will ensure that the proper permission and release documentation are received for the content of their application, images, including but not limited to intellectual property licenses and photographic image releases. Applicants agree to indemnify and hold Best Buy Canada, its parent, affiliates, subsidiaries, officers, and agents harmless from any and all claims relating to a breach of third-party intellectual property.
