

SAFETY RECALL

In cooperation with Health Canada, Summer Infant, Inc., Woonsocket, RI, announces a voluntary recall to replace certain rechargeable batteries in baby video monitors due to overheating.

Name of Product: Rechargeable batteries in certain video monitors.

Hazard: The battery in certain handheld video monitors can overheat and rupture, posing a burn hazard to consumers.

Remedy: Replace battery

Consumer Contact: Summer Infant at 1 (800) 426-8627 anytime or online at www.summerinfant.com/batteryrecall for more information.

Units: About 49,000 units sold in Canada.

Description: The recall involves rechargeable batteries in certain Summer Infant handheld color video monitors. The rechargeable batteries in the monitors are about 1 ½" tall by 2 ¼" wide and are ¼" thick, black, and are marked with TCL on the lower right corner of the battery. Monitors are sold with a matching camera and A/C adaptors. The rechargeable battery can only be found in the monitor. Batteries that may be affected will include one of these letter & number combinations in the beginning of the serial number on the back of the battery.

Incidents/Injuries: Summer Infant has received 5 reports in Canada of overheated batteries, including incidents of smoke and minor property damage.

Remedy: Consumers should remove the battery and contact Summer Infant for a replacement battery. The monitor can continue to be used on AC power with power cord.

Sold at: Mass merchants, online retailers and independent juvenile specialty stores from about February 2010 through 2012 for approximately $149 - $299.

Importer: Summer Infant, of Woonsocket, R.I.
