Player of the Week

Jon Mikrut, Northwestern

SR, SS, Wauconda, Ill./Carmel
Mikrut boosted Northwestern to a 3-1 series victory over third-place Iowa by batting .563 (9-of-16) with six runs scored and six runs batted in to become the third Wildcat to earn Big Ten Player of the Week accolades this season. The senior shortstop also added two walks in the series to produce an on-base percentage of .632 and a slugging percentage of 1.000. After going 1-for-4 with two runs scored in the series-opening triumph, Mikrut produced two or more hits in each of the final three contests. He went 3-for-4 in game two with a pair of doubles and two RBI before going 2-for-3 in game three with a home run, three runs batted in and a pair of runs scored. The Illinois-native wrapped up his weekend with a 3-for-5 effort, including a triple, an RBI and a run. Mikrut joins teammates Max Mann (February 15) and Pat McMahon (February 22) as weekly Conference honorees in 2005.

Pitcher of the Week

Rory Meister, Ohio State

FR, RHP, Mansfield, Ohio/Mansfield Madison
Meister appeared in relief in five of six games last week, striking out 13 batters in 11 and two-thirds innings and picking up the first two saves of his career against Indiana to nab Big Ten Pitcher of the Week laurels. The freshman righthander allowed no runs and only two hits during the week while walking only two batters. In two mid-week contests with Eastern Michigan, Meister entered the first game with the bases loaded and no outs and struck out the first hitter he faced before forcing a double play. In the second outing, he struck out a career-high five batters in three and two-thirds innings. Against the Hoosiers, he finished game three of the series by retiring the final seven batters he faced before earning his second career save in the finale by preserving a two-run lead. Meister is the second OSU hurler to be named Big Ten Pitcher of the Week this season as teammate Trent Luyster was selected on March 7.

Quick Pitches

Sweeps Week: For the first time since the opening week of Big Ten play, two Conference teams recorded sweeps as Purdue swept first-place Minnesota while Michigan took four straight from in-state rival Michigan State. The Boilermakers recorded their first four-game sweep in League play since winning four straight at Northwestern in 2001, while the Gophers were blanked for the first time since a road trip to Ohio State in 2001. The Wolverines picked up their first sweep since a 4-0 series victory over Indiana in 2001. The Big Ten campaign opened with a pair of four-game sweeps from April 1-3, as Illinois took four straight from Ohio State and Minnesota won four games against Michigan.

A Different Look: The two four-game sweeps dramatically changed the Big Ten standings, as Illinois took advantage of Minnesota's four losses with a split on the road at Penn State to claim sole possession of first place. Purdue's four victories boosted the team from seventh to fourth place in the standings while Michigan State dropped from fourth to ninth. The top six teams in the final Conference standings will earn berths in the 2005 Big Ten Baseball Tournament, which will be held at the site of the regular season champion from May 25-28.
