FROM THE DESK OF NCAA PRESIDENT

CHARLIE BAKER

Dear students, families and fans:

Thank you for coming, and welcome to the 2025 spring sports championship season! During championship season, the atmosphere changes. Cheers echo nationwide. Objects take on a gold hue. There's an electrifying energy in the air within the Association, in conference offices and on campuses.

Each championship is a culmination of years of sweat and perseverance, and the passion of student-athletes and coaches is on display as they compete for a national title. As a former student-athlete from a family of former student-athletes, I understand the dedication you all give. Those late nights, early mornings and tough practices are now recognized in the pinnacle of this championship moment. Whether you're a returning national champion or this is your first championship experience, I hope this moment makes you proud.

I believe college athletics is the largest human-potential development program in the world. It opens doors to opportunity, forges friendships and captivates a nation. It teaches you about accountability, teamwork, getting back up after being knocked down and many other valuable skills. The NCAA has more than 500,000 student-athletes and 1,200 schools and conferences across three divisions.

It's no secret college athletics are in a time of change. There are challenges ahead, but with challenges come opportunity. Past, present and future student-athletes play a vital role in the NCAA's development, and their poise and collective wisdom encourage the Association to keep improving. Together we can usher in meaningful change. Student-athletes aren't just competitors; they're the leaders, the champions and the game-changers of tomorrow.

Our championships showcase the best of the best. I look forward to attending them each year and hope one day I'll get the chance to watch your team raise the national championship trophy. To the fans, event hosts, volunteers and countless others who make these events possible, thank you. We couldn't do it without you. To the student-athletes and coaches, savor every moment and embrace the journey. We hope the memories you create here last a lifetime. Enjoy the championship.
