Player of the Week

Drew Davidson, Illinois

Davidson led Illinois to the first four-game sweep over Ohio State in school history and the program's first 4-0 League start since 1999 by batting a sizzling .667 (6-for-9) while driving in six runs and scoring five times. The senior outfielder boasted a slugging percentage of 1.111 and an on-base percentage of .769 in the four games with a double, home run and stolen base. The Iowa native capped his weekend with a two-run walkoff home run to vault the hosts to a 6-4 victory in the series finale. Davidson batted .538 (7-for-13) in five total games last week with eight RBI and six runs. He leads the team in runs (20), RBI (19), doubles (6), slugging percentage (.657) and fielding % (1.000 on 37 chances) and is the first Illini to collect Big Ten Player of the Week laurels this season.

SR, CF, West Des Moines, Iowa/Dowling

Pitcher of the Week

Matt Loberg, Minnesota

Loberg pitched eight shutout innings in the Big Ten opener against nationally-ranked Michigan and outdueled Wolverines ace Jim Brauer to lead the Gophers to a 1-0 victory and spark the team to a four-game sweep. The senior righthander picks up his second straight Big Ten Pitcher of the Week accolade after allowing only four hits and striking out six batters against a Michigan team that entered the game with a combined .327 batting average. Loberg has not allowed a run in his last 16 innings (eight shutout innings against Butler) and has been a part of three of Minnesota's four shutouts this season. He becomes the first Big Ten pitcher to earn the Conference weekly award on two occasions this season.
