

SAFE DELIVERY PROVES DEPENDABILITY IS AN ASSET

When a chemical company's concerns over safe and reliable transport began to grow, Schneider Bulk stepped in with an asset-based distribution model that had the capacity they needed to deliver — no matter what.

THE SITUATION

Inconsistent capacity

Lack of highly trained, safe drivers

Irregular maintenance of tank equipment

THE SCHNEIDER SOLUTION

On-site transition team

Walked through each step including up-close looks at tank equipment

Dedicated drivers

Trained and certified in customer-specific safety programs

Exclusive lane ownership

Allowed chemical shipper to efficiently manage additional capacity as needed

THE RESULTS

98%

DEDICATED
ON-TIME
DELIVERY

GREATER LOAD
ACCEPTANCE

AROUND-THE-CLOCK
DEDICATED CUSTOMER SERVICE

By seamlessly transitioning from an owner-operator network to Schneider Bulk, the chemical company gained greater control of capacity while more consistently delivering loads on time and safely.
