

PROVIDING TOP BULK DRIVERS STARTS WITH SAFETY

Move your bulk loads from points A to Z without a hitch with Schneider's safe, reliable capacity. Our proven training and technology keep our drivers, the public and your load safe, so it's delivered intact and on time.

IT STARTS WITH A THOROUGH HIRING PROCESS

- Strenuous 14-point driver candidate testing process simulates the unique conditions bulk drivers face each day
- Hair testing screens out an additional 4% of drivers with a drug problem
- Proactive sleep apnea program keeps drivers safe and alert

THEN DRIVERS ARE CONTINUALLY TRAINED TO BE EVER PREPARED

- Schneider bulk drivers complete at least four weeks of rigorous training to gear up for a career on the road
- Sophisticated training simulators prepare drivers for high-pressure scenarios
- Required year-round situational training to keep a driver feeling confident and safe on the road
- Schneider does monthly training along with annual training for all associates

SCHNEIDER BACKS THEM UP WITH THE LATEST SAFETY TECHNOLOGY

- Every Schneider truck is electronic logging device compliant
- Installed collision mitigation technology reduces rear-end collisions by 68%
- Roll stability control system keeps the rubber on the road
- Automated transmissions eliminate shifting distractions, keeping drivers' eyes on the road
- New truck builds have:
  - Forward- and side-facing cameras
  - Side-guard assist/trailer sweep assist
  - Disc brakes (decreased stopping distance)

Deliver your specialty chemicals, liquid commodities, food-grade, dry bulk and more, safely and on time with Schneider Bulk services.
