For example, the removal or replacement of an athlete from a pair or team for voluntary reasons, medical reasons, or aging up will result in that team being considered a new pair or team that would no longer have the rights of the previous pair or team with regard to national team status or pathway benefits.*

TEAM TRIAL QUALIFICATION ROUND

The Qualification Round is contested first.

Recognized Poomsae: The format of this round is two parts:

Part 1: A randomly ordered draw where all contestants perform a single randomly drawn poomsae.

Part 2: A different randomly ordered draw where all contestants perform a different single randomly drawn poomsae. No athlete will go first in both rounds.

The winner of the Qualification round will be the competitor with the highest combined score of the two poomsae. In the case of a tie, the winner is the competitor with the highest presentation score. If the competitors are still tied, all scores received during the competition are considered (without dropping the high and low scores). If the scores are still tied, the competitors will perform a randomly selected poomsae, and the scores from that poomsae will be used to break the tie.

Freestyle Poomsae: Athletes will contest a single freestyle poomsae with random order. The winner of the Qualification Round advances to the Selection Round.

For Freestyle Divisions: If there are five or more entries in the Qualification Round and no athletes contest the Selection Round, the athletes shall contest the Qualification Round, and then the top four athletes shall contest the Selection Round.

If there are four or fewer entries in the Qualification Round and no athletes contest the Selection Round, then all athletes will immediately proceed to the Selection Round without contesting the Qualification Round. The winner of the Selection round is named the USATKD National Poomsae Team Member.

† Under 17 Individual Freestyle Eligibility

Because the Under 17 Freestyle Division age span is 12-17 (combination of 12-14 and 15-17), and is impacted by a small developmental pipeline in the prior age (10-11) division, the following rules apply to Under 17 Freestyle Individual Divisions only at USATKD Major Events:

The top four finishers, who do not age up in 2027, will advance to the Qualification Round. This will roll down to include only the top 8 finishers in the division.

Athletes who meet one of the following criteria in 2026 in the relevant individual division compete in the Qualification Round:

The winner of the Selection round is named the 2027 USATKD National Poomsae Team Member.

Benefits of being selected the National Team member only apply to the winner of the team trials; any athlete who acts as an alternate in a National Team event does not receive these benefits.

International Dominant Athlete

- Win a gold medal at a G4 or higher event (must have five or more opponents)
- U30 & U40, O17 Freestyle Individual Only: Achieve #1-4 WT ranking in the world on December 31, 2026
- There may be more than one International Dominant athlete.

Notes on International qualification through WT G-rated Events

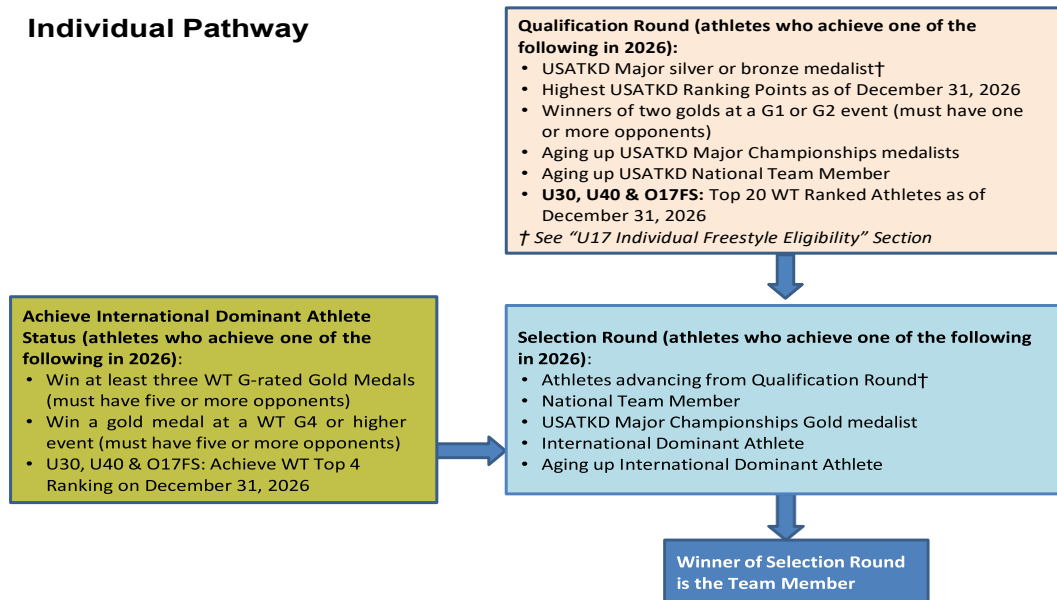

Proof of international results must be submitted by the athlete to USATKD by emailing ewininger@usatkd.org in the form of an official bracket or official results sheet published by the tournament organizer within 60 days of the event. Photographs of athletes on podium or ringside monitors will not be accepted.

ALL divisions with at least two contestants* at a WT G-rated poomsae event will be considered as criteria for inclusion in the 2027 Team Trials. In other words, not only the WT-ranked poomsae divisions, but all divisions contested at that event will contribute to an athlete's eligibility.

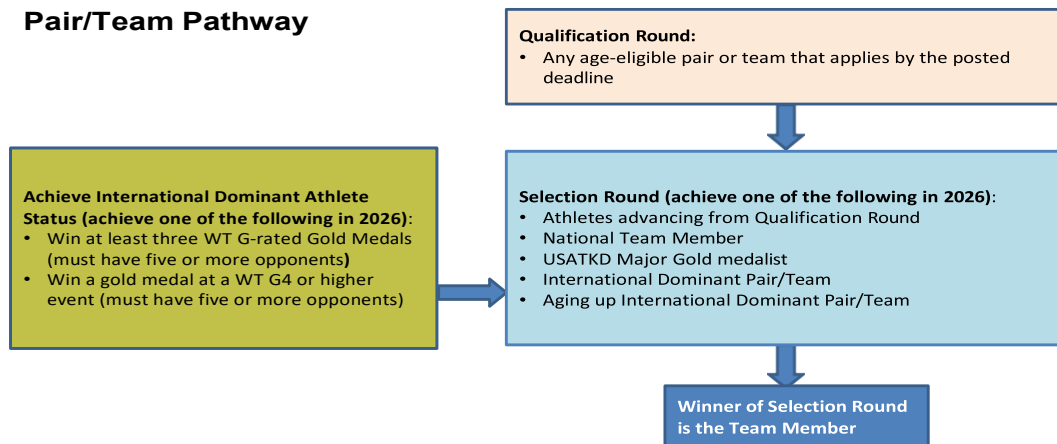

* Athletes must compete against another athlete who is present and receives a score.

COMPETITION FORMAT: Selection Round

Recognized Poomsae Format: 5 Poomsae

Each Recognized Poomsae Division performs five poomsae, one at a time per round. All competitors will perform the first randomly selected poomsae, followed by all competitors performing the second poomsae, and so forth.

A random competitor order will be utilized. The algorithm used to randomize the competitors will ensure that no competitor will perform first for any two consecutive poomsae.

Poomsae forms will be randomly selected and shown in the court at the start of each round.

The selection of the winner will be based on two methods of calculating the results.

1. Cumulative Score Method: The first method will be by cumulative score of all rounds of competition. At the end of five rounds, the scores across the five poomsae for each athlete are totaled. The athlete who has the highest total score will be declared the winner of this method.

In the case of a tie, the winner is the competitor with the highest presentation score. If the competitors are still tied, all scores received during the competition are considered (without dropping the high and low scores). If the scores are still tied, the competitors will perform a randomly selected poomsae, and the scores from that poomsae will be used to break the tie.

2. Rounds Won Method: The second method will be by placement during each round of poomsae. Each round a first, second, third and fourth place will be awarded to the competitors and the number of wins will be recorded across all rounds. At the end of five rounds, the number of round wins will be listed as the highest number of 1st places, number of 2nd places, number of 3rd places and number of 4th places. The competitor with the highest number of 1st places wins.

If there is a tie, then the number of 2nd place, then number of 3rd place becomes a factor. For example, Competitor A, with 5 first place wins, beats Competitor B, with 3 first place and 5 second place wins. Or Competitor A with 4 first place, 3 second place and 1 third place beats Competitor B with 4 first place, 2 second place and 1 third place.

If the same athlete places first in both methods of calculating the winner, then that athlete is the uncontested winner. If any different athlete(s) places higher using the second method and records more round wins than the cumulative score winner, those athletes will have the right to challenge the winner to a tie breaker round.

The tie breaker between methods will use a single elimination format. The athletes qualifying will be seeded as the Cumulative Score winner seeded number 1 and the round winner seeded number 2, with subsequent round winners, if any, seeded next. Two forms will be randomly selected by the High Performance staff, and the round will be run using WT single elimination format rules. The winner will be named the Team Member.

Alternates, if needed, will be selected from the cumulative score results. The non-winning athlete who has the highest cumulative score is the first alternate. The non-winning athlete who has the second highest cumulative score is the second alternate, and the non-winning athlete with the third highest cumulative score is the third alternate. After this, the team spot will remain vacant if there were 4 or more contestants. If there were 3 or fewer contestants, alternates may be taken from the highest placement for the Qualification Round to fill 3 total alternate positions.

Scoring

Referees will use blind scoring; they will not see the scores until the end of each division. Athletes and coaches will see the scores after each performance.

Freestyle Poomsae Format:

Athletes will perform once in random order. The winner of the Selection Round is the winner of the team trial.
